Child Care in Person County

Did you know that...

• approximately 1,611 children under six in the county live in families where their sole parent or both parents are working? The need for child care is critical to the economic viability of these families.

• the county received and spent $1,147,829 (not including Smart Start funding) to help parents pay for child care in fiscal year 2010-11? In December 2011, the county served 222 different children with child care subsidy and had 109 eligible children on the waiting list for subsidy.

• Person County has 50 licensed child care programs? Of these, 19 are centers and 31 are family child care homes. Of all the licensed programs in the county, 42% of centers and 32% of homes have a 4 or 5 star rating. These businesses employ 170 people directly, and also contribute to the economy through purchases of goods and services provided by other businesses in their communities and state.

• there are 570 birth to five year old and 344 school-age children currently enrolled in these child care programs.

• among birth to five year old children enrolled in centers in Person County, 82% are in 4 or 5 star licensed centers. Among birth to five year old children enrolled in homes in Person County, 26% are in 4-5 star licensed homes.

• 10 teachers, directors and family child care providers living in Person County participated in the T.E.A.C.H. Early Childhood® Project in fiscal year 2010-2011 with 1 child care program supporting its employees returning to school through this scholarship program?

• using federal guidelines for setting subsidy payment rates and data from a 2010-2011 market rate study, the 4-star center market rate for two year olds in Person County is $646 per month?

• most families in Person County cannot afford the full cost of child care? Low-income families and families with more than one child have to pay a high percentage of their income for care. A single mother with one child earning $34,668 or less per year can receive child care subsidy as funds are available. If funds are unavailable or if this parent’s earnings exceed the income eligibility limit, a parent would pay 22% of her gross income (see chart) for child care offered at the county rate. Little is left in the family’s budget for food, medical, clothing, travel or other basic living expenses. Due to the high cost of child care, parents such often make difficult choices. Some maybe forced to seek TANF. Others may seek cheaper, often inadequate child care or leave their children unattended.

© 2012 Child Care Services Association. Figures derived using the most recent available data from Child Care Services Association, Internal Revenue Service, N.C. Budget and Tax Center, N.C. Division of Child Development, N.C. Division of Social Services, N.C. State Data Center and U.S. Census Bureau, and the Department of Public Instruction.